

Jean Lash – Biography

Jean Lash has practiced immigration and refugee law at South Ottawa Community Legal Services since her call to the bar in 2004. She appears before the Federal Court on judicial review applications and all divisions of the Immigration and Refugee Board. Jean also devotes many practice hours to immigration applications based on humanitarian and compassionate relief, often involving clients who suffer from gender violence and mental illness. Before going to law school, Jean worked for 15 years in the field of international development where she specialized in women's issues.
