

Veronica Wilson – Biography

Veronica Wilson is the co-founder and legal director of TalentLift Canada, a non-profit talent agency supporting Canada's Economic Mobility Pathways Pilot (EMPP), a new government program that enables skilled refugees to immigrate through economic programs. As the legal advisor and representative in many of the proof-of-concept applications under the program, she has assisted in pioneering the emerging legal practice in Canada. She speaks regularly on the promise of labour mobility and leveraging economic immigration programs as a complementary pathway to traditional humanitarian resettlement streams in response to the growing global refugee crisis.